Portfolio Review

Stocks were as hot as Christmas in Kentucky during Q4, as record high temperatures in our Bluegrass State capped a sizzling quarter, year, and decade for investors. During the quarter, investors were encouraged by improving economic data, trade progress, and a widespread belief earnings growth will rebound in 2020 as interest rates and inflation remain low. Small caps outperformed large caps with the Russell 2000 returning +9.94% versus +9.07% for the S&P 500.

For the quarter, key drivers of performance in the Portfolio included positive stock selection (+240 bps), particularly within Financials (+90 bps) and Health Care (+56 bps), as well as a relative underweight allocation to Real Estate (+63 bps) and lack of exposure to Utilities (+58 bps).

The top contributing holding in the Portfolio during Q4 was Cannae Holdings Inc. (CNNE), which owns a 17% stake in publicly traded HR software and services firm Ceridian (CDAY), a 24% stake in privately held commercial data and analytics provider Dun & Bradstreet, a healthcare IT company (T-System), and restaurant brands (O'Charley's, 99). The stock surged following management's Q3 earnings call, which revealed annualized cost savings for Dun & Bradstreet continue to run ahead of expectations, effectively pulling forward the timeframe for a potential monetization event. CNNE's Q4 stock performance was also aided by CDAY's +37% rise (+97% rise in 2019). A host of other Q4 management actions occurred, including contributing T-System to a promising new healthcare joint venture with the Carlyle Group, the sale of additional CDAY shares, a secondary offering of CNNE shares to raise funds to acquire 60% of Fiserv's investment services business, and the naming of new CEO Rick Massey, a highly experienced dealmaker and longtime Bill Foley associate.

The largest negative contributing holding in Q4 was Expedia Group Inc. (EXPE), an online travel agency (OTA). In November, EXPE reported Q3 results significantly below Wall Street and our internal expectations. Search engine optimization (SEO) traffic decreased as Google emphasized its own travel search products and paid ads, pushing free SEO links further down the search results page. This drove a shift to higher cost marketing channels, which resulted in EBITDA being flat year over year (versus expectations of double-digit growth) and full-year EBITDA guidance being reduced. In late November, Chairman Barry Diller fired the CEO and CFO after a disagreement over company strategy and promised better execution moving forward. After performing a firm-wide conviction review, we concluded Google is not interested in becoming an OTA. However, we believe EXPE must drive more direct traffic to its app and website to circumvent Google.

While it has been difficult to keep the Portfolio fully invested, we are still finding new opportunities, especially on market pullbacks. We believe portfolio positioning remains a highly attractive balance of value, quality, AND growth. According to FactSet, the Portfolio's valuation (as measured by EV/EBITDA) is 9.7x versus 10.7x for the benchmark. Quality, as measured by five-year average return on equity, is 10.9% versus 8.8% for the benchmark. Finally, the Portfolio's expected long-term growth (as measured by published long-term estimates) is a healthy +8.7% versus +8.1% for the benchmark.

The Small-Mid Cap Value II Composite contains fully discretionary small-mid cap value equity accounts that seek capital appreciation by investing primarily in small-mid cap value domestic equity securities that trade at a discount to our valuation as determined using RRAM's proprietary Absolute Value® approach. For this Composite, RRAM defines a small to mid cap company as one whose market capitalization is less than $10 B. RRAM selects securities from a universe of companies with a market capitalization at the time of initial purchase typically between $500 MM and $10 B, employing a value driven, bottom-up fundamental approach. The official benchmark for the Composite is the Russell 2500 Value index. The U.S. dollar is the currency used to express performance and includes the reinvestment of income. Composite performance is presented gross of foreign withholding taxes on dividends, interest income, and capital gains. All Composite performance is after the deduction of trading costs. Net of fee performance is calculated using actual management fees.
